

Letter from Arthur W. McCurdy to J. Fearon, November 4, 1897

Nov. 4, 1897. Mr. J. Fearon. Dear Sir :—

Mr. Bell wishes to thank you for your cordial offer of hospitality to him occasion of his passing through Halifax this week, but his lecture is postponed, and will not be delivered until his return from Boston ten days hence, so that he will go right on board the steamer on arrival on Saturday night. Should you be in the neighborhood of the steamer he would be very glad of the opportunity of seeing you.

Yours truly, Arthur W. McCurdy Private Secretary.
